2. Information Collection

Information You Provide to Us

We collect information you provide directly to us. For example, we collect information when you use ou for our Services or set up a Southwest account, SWABIZ® account, Southwest Cargo account, or Rapid F our e-mails, mobile messages, or social media notifications, post on our forums or blogs, participate in the Rapid Rewards® Program, a sweepstakes, contest, promotion, survey, or poll, communicate with us via third party social media sites, shop our Services, order physical or digital gift cards, request customer support, apply for a job or otherwise communicate with us through the Services. We and our agents, vendors, and service providers may record, monitor, process, and retain communications and associated information, including emails, chats, calls, and texts. We may use chatbot technology and other automated methods of communication.

The types of information we may collect include Personal Information. "Personal Information" is information that could reasonably be linked with a particular individual or household, including identifiers such as your first and last name, e-mail address, zip code, billing address, shipping address, and phone number, payment card information, social media account information, travel preferences, birth date, redress number, purchase and preference information, location information, and demographic information. The "Personal Information" we collect also may include sensitive information, such as present and future health status, to allow us to better serve your needs (for example, to assist you with boarding a flight if you need a wheelchair or with meeting safety requirements), citizenship, username and password, government issued ID number, precise geolocation, and genetic or biometric information.

You may choose to voluntarily submit certain other information to us through the Services, including Personal Information, but you are solely responsible for the information that you submit to us.

Using the other pieces of Personal Information collected about you, we may draw certain inferences about you.

If you apply for or inquire about employment with us, "Personal Information" may also include your education, occupation, employment history, and any other information submitted as part of your application or inquiry. This Privacy Policy is not intended to be a substitute for disclosure or authorization obligations regarding background checks, which may be required under the Fair Credit Reporting Act or other applicable similar or local laws. If we conduct a background check on you, at that time we will provide you with separate disclosure and authorization forms informing you of our intent to check your background, and requesting your consent to do so.

Information We Collect Automatically

We and our agents, vendors, and service providers automatically collect certain information from and about you when you access or use our Services. This information may include, without limitation, demographic information; IP address; browser/device/hardware type; operating system characteristics; information about your use of our Services; and data regarding network connected hardware (e.g., computer or mobile device), such as unique device identifiers, type, model, version, MAC address, device or session ID, error related data status, capability, confirmation, functionality, performance data, and connection type. This information may also include clickstream data, which is information about the page-by-page paths you take as you browse through the Services. We and our agents, vendors, and service providers may use session replay and other technologies to collect page interaction information and other electronic communications and content from your use of the Services (such as content entry, mouse movements, screen captures, the date, time, and location of your visit, what areas of the Services you visit and for how long, what search terms or other data you enter, and what content you view and click on), and methods used to browse away from the Services.

This information is gathered by certain tools and methods such as:

- Log Information: We and our agents, vendors, and service providers collect information about your use of our Services, such as the type of browser you use, access times, pages viewed, your IP address and the referring link through which you accessed our Services.
- Information Collected by Cookies and Other Technologies: We and our agents, vendors, and service providers may use cookies, web beacons (also known as "tracking pixels"), embedded scripts, location-identifying technologies, in-app tracking methods, and other tracking technologies to collect information about you when you interact with our Services or e-mails, including information about your browsing and purchasing behavior. We and our agents, vendors, and service providers may combine this information with other information about you and use it for various purposes, such as analyzing and improving our Services and your online experience, understanding which areas and features of our Services are popular, counting visits, understanding campaign effectiveness, tailoring communications with you, determining whether an e-mail has b the e-mail have been clicked, and for other internal business purposes. Please note that, in accorc requirements, in some territories you will be presented with a notice which will contain more info we use and provide you with a means to select and manage your preferences in addition to the o
    - Cookies: Cookies are data files that are placed on a computer when it is used to visit a websit for many purposes, including, without limitation, tracking user preferences or web pages vis Some web browsers are set to accept cookies by default. If you prefer, you can usually set yo certain cookies. Please note that if you choose to remove or reject cookies, this could affect t of our Services. For example, cookies allow us and our agents, vendors, and service provider between visits. In addition, please be aware that if you choose to block cookies, some prefer cookies may not be able to be respected.

We and third parties use cookies and other technologies to analyze site traffic and use, personalize content and ads, and improve our sites and services. We've also updated our Privacy Policy as of 3/30/26. For more information, refer to our updated Privacy Policy

- Web Beacons: We and our agents, vendors, and service providers may include small graphic images called web beacons, also known as "Internet tags" or "clear gifs," in our web pages and e-mail messages. We and our agents, vendors, and service providers may use web beacons or similar technologies for a number of purposes, including, without limitation, to count the number of visitors to our Service, to monitor how users navigate the Services, and to count how many e-mails that we sent were actually opened or how many particular articles or links were actually viewed.
- Embedded Scripts: An embedded script is programming code that is designed to collect information about your interactions with the Services. It is temporarily downloaded onto your computer from our web server or a third party with whom we work, is designed to be active only while you are connected to the Service, and deleted or deactivated thereafter.
- Location-identifying Technologies: We and our agents, vendors, and service providers may use GPS (global positioning systems) software and other location-based technologies to locate you so we may verify your location, and deliver relevant content to you based on your location. We may collect precise location information from your device.
- In-App Tracking Methods: There are a variety of tracking technologies that may be included in mobile applications, and these are not browser-based like cookies and cannot be controlled by browser settings. Some use device identifiers, or other identifiers such as “Ad IDs” to associate app user activity to a particular app.

If you use inflight Wi-Fi or inflight entertainment services, we and our agents, vendors, and service providers may collect information regarding your use of such Services and the hardware used to connect to such Services. This may include, for example, information about how frequently your device accesses the Wi-Fi during your flight, information regarding your flight, information regarding the websites you visit and the types of web materials you find to be of interest, and the types of software applications your computer may access inflight, such as whether you use the Wi-Fi to check e-mail, send instant messages or surf the web. This information is gathered using a variety of tools and methods, including, for example, the collection of IP address, MAC address, clickstream data, and time stamp in log files.

We and our agents, vendors, and service providers may also capture photographs and record audio and/or video at airports and our facilities, including through the use of Closed Circuit Television (CCTV) and other technologies.

From time to time, you may be presented with the opportunity to voluntarily participate in programs operated by third parties that collect biometric information or use facial comparison technology in connection with certain travel services. For information about these programs and the collection of related biometric information, please contact the agency or entity that operates the program. For example, for information about U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP)’s traveler verification service, visit https://www.dhs.gov/publication/dhscbppia-056-traveler-verification-service. This Privacy Policy does not apply to these programs.

Information we and our agents, vendors, and service providers automatically collect about you, such as how you interact with our Services, may be combined with your Personal Information. If we associate any such automatically-collected information with Personal Information about you, our objective will be to treat the combined information as Personal Information.

We and our business partners and other third parties may send you product promotions that are aligned with your purchase trends and/or interests identified through automatically-collected information.

Information We Collect From Our Partners and Other Sources

We may also obtain information about you (including, without limitation, e-mail, address and employment history) from other sources and we may combine that with information we collect about you. If we receive Personal Information from a third party source and/or if we combine the information we receive from these third party sources with your Personal Information, our goal will be to treat that information as Personal Information. We are not responsible for the accuracy of the information provided by you or third parties or how such third parties collect, use and share such information.

We may obtain information from our partners and append it to our existing user information to better understand users’ interests and to provide more relevant content, including job listings and advertising.

We may append information about you that is publicly available or information that is aggregated and/c partners. This information may include, for example, your travel preferences and activity, household inc education history, or postal code. This information may be associated with Personal Information as des address, physical address, first and last name combined, or phone number. We may use a third party ve information to assist with this.

We and third parties use cookies and other technologies to analyze site traffic and use, personalize content and ads, and improve our sites and services. We've also updated our Privacy Policy as of 3/30/26. For more information, refer to our updated Privacy Policy

3. Use of Information

5. Information You Disclose Publicly or to Others

The Services may permit you to submit ideas, photographs, user profiles, writings, music, video, audio recordings, computer graphics, pictures, data, questions, comments, suggestions or other content, including Personal Information (collectively, "User Content"), such as on blogs and forums, and in association with your account and user profile. We or others may store, display, reproduce, publish, distribute or otherwise use User Content online or offline in any media or format (currently existing or hereafter developed) and may or may not attribute it to you. Others may have access to this User Content and may have the ability to share it with third parties. Please think carefully before deciding what information you share, including Personal Information, in connection with your User Content. Please note that Southwest does not control who will have access to the information that you choose to make public, and cannot ensure that parties who have access to such publicly available information will respect your privacy or keep it secure. We are not responsible for the privacy or security of any information that you make publicly available on the Services or what others do with information you share with them on the Services. We are not responsible for the accuracy, use or misuse of any User Content that you disclose or receive from third parties through the Services. We are not responsible for User Content you submit to third party services via our Services.

7. Advertising & Analytics Services and Online Tracking

We engage third parties to serve advertisements on our Services and across the Internet and to provide analytics about the use of our Services. In addition, we may participate in online advertising networks and exchanges that display relevant advertisements to our Services visitors based on their interests as reflected in their browsing of the Service and certain third party sites participating in the same networks and exchanges. These entities may use cookies, web beacons, pixels, embedded scripts, and other technologies to collect information about your use of the Service, such as your IP address, web browser, pages viewed, time spent on pages, links clicked and conversion information. This information may be used by us and others to, among other things, analyze and track data, determine the popularity of certain content, deliver advertising and content targeted to your interests on the Services and other websites and better understand your online activity. Data collected from a particular browser or device may be used with another computer or device that is linked to the browser or device on which such data was collected, or transferred to a non-affiliate for such purposes.

This means that some information about your browsing of the Service and certain third party sites may be shared with these companies for the purpose of delivering ads to you on the Services and certain third party sites, and Southwest may receive from some of these companies information about third party sites that you have visited. This information is used for marketing purposes and the practice is sometimes termed "retargeting" to indicate that information from one retailer is used to suggest to you relevant products offered by another retailer.

These and other third parties may also collect Personal Information about your online activities over time and across different websites when you use our Service.

We may also work with third parties to serve ads to you as part of a customized campaign on other websites or platforms.

This Privacy Policy does not cover any use of information that such third parties themselves may have collected from you (e.g., type of browser, operating system, domain name, day and time of visit, page(s) visited) or the methods used by the third-parties to collect that information (e.g., cookies, web beacons and clear gifs).

We may use Google Analytics including for analytics services. You can learn about Google Analytics' currently available opt-outs at https://tools.google.com/dlpage/gaoptout.

Please note that, in accordance with local legal requirements, in some territories you will be presented with a notice which will contain more information about the technologies we use and provide you with a means to select and manage your preferences in addition to the options below; in those territories, you may also click the icon on the bottom of the Southwest website or app to access the preference center. Note that your browser settings may also allow you to automatically transmit a “Do Not Track” signal to websites and online services you visit. Like many websites and online services, Southwest currently does not alter its practices when it receives a “Do Not Track” signal from a visitor’s browser. To find out more about “Do Not Track,” you may wish to visit https://www.allaboutdnt.com.

Certain advertising networks and exchanges may participate in the US Digital Advertising Alliance ("DAA") AdChoices Program and may display an Advertising Option Icon for interest-based ads. You can learn more about the DAA AdChoices Program at https://www.youradchoices.com. The DAA also offers a tool for opting out of the collection of cross-app data on a mobile device for interest-based advertising. To exercise choice for companies participating in this tool, download the AppChoice app at https://youradchoices.com/appchoices.

In addition, certain advertising networks and exchanges may participate in the US Network Advertising Initiative (“NAI”). NAI has developed a tool that allows consumers to opt out of targeted advertising delivered by NAI members' a

8. Social Features

Certain functionality on the Services is specifically designed to permit interactions that you initiate between the Service and third party websites or services, including third party social networks ("Social Features"). Examples of Social Features include enabling you to transmit content to the Service from your account on a third party website or service; to "like" or "share" our Services content to other websites or services; to log-in to the Services using your username and password for a third party site or service; and to otherwise connect our Services to a third party website or service.

If you choose to use Social Features, information you post or provide access to, including User Content, may be publicly displayed on our Services or by the provider of the Social Feature that you use. Similarly, if you post information on a third party platform that references our Services (e.g., by using a hashtag associated with Southwest in a tweet or status update), your post may be published on our Service in accordance with the terms of the third party website or service. Also, both Southwest and the third party may have access to certain information about you and your use of our Services and the third party site or service. In addition, we may receive information about you if other users of a third party website give us access to their profiles and you are one of their "connections," or information about you is otherwise accessible through your "connections" web pages, profile pages, or similar pages on a social networking or other third party website or interactive service.

The information we collect in connection with Social Features is subject to this Privacy Policy. The information collected and stored by the third parties remains subject to those third parties' privacy practices, including whether the third parties continue to share information with us, the types of information shared, and your choices with regard to what is visible to others on those third party websites or services.

9. Refer-a-Friend

You may use a referral feature, if we make it available to you in your territory, to inform a friend about our services. Southwest may use any e-mail address provided when using this referral feature to send a single e-mail to such designated recipients about products, services, offers, promotions, rewards and events and provide news and information we think will be of interest to such designated recipients. By using a referral feature, you represent that you have permission to provide your friend's email address. Southwest will not be responsible for the accuracy of the information you provide.

10. Third Party Websites

The Services contain hyperlinks to other websites or locations that we do not control and are operated and controlled by third parties ("Third Party Websites"). We make no representations regarding the policies or business practices of such Third Party Websites and encourage you to familiarize yourself with their privacy policies before providing them with your Personal Information. Our Privacy Policy does not apply to these Third Party Websites. You should read the privacy policy of each Third Party Website as these Third Party Websites may use their own cookies, web beacons and other technology to independently collect information about you. In addition, these Third Party Websites may solicit Personal Information from you.

11. TSA Guidelines

The Transportation Security Administration of the U.S. Department of Homeland Security requires us to collect information from you for purposes of watch list screening, under the authority of 49 U.S.C. section 114, and the Intelligence Reform and Terrorism Prevention Act of 2004. Providing this information is voluntary; however, if it is not provided, you may be subject to additional screening or denied transport or authorization to enter a sterile area. TSA may share information you provide with law enforcement or intelligence agencies or others under its published system of records notice. For more on TSA Privacy policies, or to view the the privacy impact assessment, please see TSA's Web site at www.tsa.gov.

13. Your Choices

Profile and Apps

You are responsible for maintaining the accuracy of the information you submit to us, such as your contact information provided as part of registration. The Services may allow you to access, review, correct, update, and remove or make inaccessible Personal Information you have provided through the Services' registration or otherwise, and you may provide registration updates and changes by logging into your Southwest account, SWABIZ® account, or Rapid Rewards® account, or contacting us by phone, e-mail, or postal mail as detailed here.

With respect to our mobile and other applications, you can prospectively stop all collection of information by the application by uninstalling the application. Also, you may at any time restrict our access to your location data by adjusting the permissions in your mobile device.

It is our objective to make good faith efforts to make requested changes in our then-active databases as soon as reasonably practicable (but we may retain prior information as business records). Please note that it is not always possible to completely remove or delete all of your information from our databases and that residual data may remain on backup media or for other reasons.

Promotional Communications

You can opt out of receiving promotional e-mail communications from us at any time by following the instructions provided in those communications or e-mail us as detailed here. Note that if you would like to opt out of receiving promotional e-mail communications relating to Southwest Cargo, separately click here. If you receive promotional text messages from us, you may opt out of the applicable text messaging program by replying "STOP" to a promotional text message you receive.

As a Southwest customer, Southwest account holder, SWABIZ®, or Rapid Rewards® Member, or user of the Services, you may also receive periodic promotional postal mailings from Southwest Airlines and/or our select marketing partners. If you do not wish to receive such promotional mailings, you may opt out at any time by following the instructions provided in those mailings or e-mail us as detailed here.

Please note that even if you opt out of receiving promotional emails, text messages or other communications, we and our agents, vendors, and service providers may continue to send you non-promotional e-mails, non-promotional text messages and other types of communications, as permitted by law, such as those about our ongoing business relations. For example, we and our agents, vendors, and service providers may send e-mails and other communications that contain service-related announcements that affect your account, confirmations and updates regarding reservations you have made, requests for feedback on our services and/or your specific travel experiences, information about your job application or responses to your comments and feedback submitted to us and our agents, vendors, and service providers.

Southwest mobile applications may send you notifications that may include alerts, sounds, and icon badges. These push notifications or in-app messages may include both operational messages and promotional messages regarding products, services and offers that may be of interest to you. Push notifications and other alerts can be configured in settings on your mobile device. As with e-mails, even if you opt out of receiving promotional communications, we may continue to send you non-promotional push notifications and other alerts, such as those about your use of the applications or our ongoing business relations.

Our policy does not permit discrimination against you for making a request under our Privacy Policy. To make a Personal Information request, click here or call us at 1-800-435-9792. For requests to opt-out of targeted advertising and the "sale" or "sharing" of Personal Information click Do Not Sell or Share My Personal Information. The web forms and phone number are not intended to be used for general submission of complaints or comments. For such inquiries, please visit the Help Center page on Southwest.com for Customer Service options.

Please note that we may deny your request, or fulfill a request only in part, based on our legal rights and obligations. For example, we may retain Personal Information as permitted by law, such as for tax or other record keeping purposes, to maintain an active account, and to process transactions and facilitate customer requests. If you are not satisfied with the outcome of your Personal Information request and would like to request further review, you may submit an appeal request from within the portal account that was provided to you as part of the Personal Information request process or send an email to Southwest.Privacy@wnco.com with "Personal Information Requests Appeal" in the subject line. Depending on the type and nature of your request, we intend to take reasonable steps to verify your identity prior to responding to your requests. The verification steps will vary depending on the sensitivity of the Personal Information and whether you have an account with us. If you designate an authorized agent to make a request on your behalf, please ensure the authorized agent is identified as an authorized agent.

The Personal Information requests under this Section do not apply to information about job applicants, employees and other employment affiliates. Southwest employees, directors, officers, contractors, interns, job applicants and designated beneficiaries that are California residents can submit certain requests regarding their Personal Information processed in the employment context by clicking here or by calling us at 1-800-435-9792.

19. Individuals from the European Economic Area, Switzerland, the United Kingdom, and Certain Other Countries Outside of the United States

This Section of the Privacy Policy only applies to those who use our Services and are in a country that is a Member State of the European Economic Area, the United Kingdom, Switzerland or other countries outside of the United States to the extent the laws of such countries require Southwest to provide consumers with rights set forth below; to the extent that Southwest is subject to the laws of the European Economic Area, Switzerland, the United Kingdom, or such other countries outside of the United States when processing Personal Information, Southwest shall be a "data controller" or "data fiduciary" under such laws.

The law in Europe and certain other jurisdictions requires us to have legal basis for collecting and using your Personal Information. Where applicable, we rely on one or more of the following legal bases:

- Performance of a contract with you: Where we need to perform the contract we are about to enter into or have entered into with you.
- Legitimate interests: We may use your Personal Information where it is necessary to conduct our business and pursue our legitimate interests, for example to prevent fraud and enable us to give you the best and most secure customer experience. We consider and balance any potential impact on you and your rights (both positive and negative) before we process your Personal Information for our legitimate interests.
- To protect a vital interest of you or another person: We may use your Personal Information to prevent harm, ensure safety, or respond to emergencies where necessary.
- Legal obligation: We may use your Personal Information where it is necessary for compliance with a legal obligation that we are subject to.
- Consent: We rely on consent only where we have obtained your active agreement to use your Personal Information for a specified purpose in accordance with applicable law, for example if you subscribe to an email newsletter or give your explicit consent by providing us with sensitive health information to manage special assistance requests. For Indian residents, where we collect or process Sensitive Personal Data or Information (as defined below), we will do so only for a lawful purpose connected with our functions or activities, where such collection is necessary for the specified purpose, and after obtaining the individual's prior written consent for such specified purpose, in accordance with applicable laws.

Whenever we transfer your Personal Information out of your country to countries which have laws that do not provide the same level of data protection as your home country, a similar degree of protection is afforded to it using the following safeguards if applicable:

- Standard contractual terms approved for use such as those approved by the Swiss, European Union and UK and other applicable regulators for enabling transfers.
- Adequacy decision made by a home state meaning the country to whom the information is transferred to has been determined to afford an equivalent level of protection to the EU/UK or other territory as applicable.
- As otherwise permitted under applicable local laws. For Indian residents, if required under applica your information to another entity only with your prior consent and only where that entity agrees data protection as required under applicable law.

We will retain your Personal Information for as long as reasonably necessary to fulfil the purposes we co purposes of satisfying any legal, regulatory, tax, accounting or reporting requirements. We may retain y longer period in the event of a complaint or if we reasonably believe there is a prospect of litigation in r you.

We and third parties use cookies and other technologies to analyze site traffic and use, personalize content and ads, and improve our sites and services. We've also updated our Privacy Policy as of 3/30/26. For more information, refer to our updated Privacy Policy

To determine the appropriate retention period for Personal Information, we consider the amount, nature and sensitivity of the Personal Information, the potential risk of harm from unauthorised use or disclosure of your Personal Information, the purposes for which we process your Personal Information and whether we can achieve those purposes through other means, and the applicable legal, regulatory, tax, accounting or other requirements.

In Europe, Mexico and certain other jurisdictions, you may have the right to:

- Request access to your Personal Information (commonly known as a "subject access request"). This enables you to receive a copy of the Personal Information we hold about you and to check that we are lawfully processing it.
- Request correction of the Personal Information that we hold about you. This enables you to have any incomplete or inaccurate data we hold about you corrected, though we may need to verify the accuracy of the new data you provide to us.
- Request erasure of your Personal Information in certain circumstances. This enables you to ask us to delete or remove Personal Information where there is no good reason for us continuing to process it. You also have the right to ask us to delete or remove your Personal Information where you have successfully exercised your right to object to processing (see below), where we may have processed your information unlawfully or where we are required to erase your Personal Information to comply with local law. Note, however, that we may not always be able to comply with your request of erasure for specific legal reasons, which we will notify you, if applicable, at the time of your request.
- Object to processing of your Personal Information where we are relying on a legitimate interest (or those of a third party) as the legal basis for that particular use of your data (including carrying out profiling based on our legitimate interests). In some cases, we may demonstrate that we have compelling legitimate grounds to process your Personal Information which override your right to object.
- Request the transfer of your Personal Information to you or to a third party. Note that this right only applies to automated information which you initially provided consent for us to use or where we used the information to perform a contract with you.
- Not provide the data or information sought to be collected by us or withdraw consent at any time where we are relying on consent to process your Personal Information. However, this will not affect the lawfulness of any processing carried out before you withdraw your consent. If you withdraw your consent, we may not be able to provide certain products or services to you. We will advise you if this is the case at the time you withdraw your consent. For Indian residents, any request to withdraw consent should be sent to us in writing.
- Request restriction of processing of your Personal Information.
- Complain to the relevant data protection authority.
- Not to be subject to a decision based solely on automated processing, including profiling, which produces legal effects concerning you.

To exercise your rights under this Section or any other rights with respect to your Personal Information under the law in your jurisdiction of residence, to the extent applicable to Southwest, you or your legal representative may email us at Southwest.Privacy@wnco.com , click here, or call us at 1-800-435-9792.

The rights described above apply only where and to the extent provided under applicable law.

You will not have to pay a fee to access your Personal Information or to exercise any of the other rights in this Section. However, we may charge a reasonable fee if your request is clearly unfounded, repetitive, or excessive. Alternatively, we could refuse to comply with your request in these circumstances.

We may need to request specific information from you, as permitted by applicable law, to help us confirm your identity and ensure your right to access your Personal Information (or to exercise any of your other rights). This is a security measure to ensure that Personal Information is not disclosed to an unauthorized person. We may also contact you to ask you for further information in relation to your request to speed up our response.

Unless otherwise required under applicable law, we try to respond to all legitimate requests under this Section within one month. Occasionally it could take us longer than a month if your request is particularly complex or you have made a number of requests. In this case, we will notify you and keep you updated.

Note that if you would like to opt-out of cookie-based tracking for behaviorally targeted advertising pur separately adjust your browser settings and otherwise set your preferences as described in Section 7.

Please note that we may deny your request, or fulfill a request only in part, based on our legal rights and may retain Personal Information as permitted by law, such as for tax or other record keeping purposes, and to process transactions and facilitate customer requests. If you are not satisfied with the outcome o request and would like to request further review, you may submit an appeal request from within the po to you as part of the Personal Information request process or send an email to Southwest.Privacy@wnc
