targeted members after they complete specific tasks. Now's a good time to check your eligibility and register — even if you're unsure about your upcoming travel plans.

To see if you're eligible and register, visit United's Mile Play page. Enter your United MileagePlus number, check the box stating you aren't a robot and click "Start Mile Play."

As is normal with these promotions, offers vary widely from one member to another. United may not have targeted some members for Mile Play, while others will see different rewards and requirements to earn them. We checked around the TPG team and found varying offers.

Examples of United's Mile Play offers

Senior travel editor Lyndsey Matthews, who does not hold MileagePlus status, received an offer to book and take two trips by Dec. 22 to earn 2,800 bonus miles; the fare has to be more than $300 per trip.

Best cards to use to book United flights

Whether or not you're targeted for this promotion, you can earn lots of bonus United miles by opening a cobranded credit card. Here's a look at the current welcome bonuses on select United cards:

- United℠ Explorer Card (see rates and fees): Earn up to 80,000 bonus miles: Earn 70,000 bonus miles after spending $3,000 on purchases in the first three months from account opening. Plus, earn 10,000 bonus miles after adding an authorized user in the first three months from account opening.
- United Quest℠ Card (see rates and fees): Earn up to 100,000 bonus miles and 3,000 PQPs: Earn 90,000 bonus miles and 3,000 PQPs after spending $4,000 on purchases in the first three months from account opening. Plus, earn 10,000 bonus miles after adding an authorized user in the first three months from account opening.
- United Club℠ Card (see rates and fees): Earn up to 110,000 bonus miles and 3,000 PQPs: Earn 100,000 bonus miles and 3,000 PQPs after spending $5,000 on purchases within the first three months from account opening. Plus, earn 10,000 bonus miles after adding an authorized user in the first three months from account opening.
- United Gateway℠ Card (see rates and fees): Earn up to 40,000 bonus miles: Earn 30,000 bonus miles after spending $1,000 on purchases in the first three months from account opening. Plus, earn 10,000 bonus PQPs: Earn 100,000 bonus miles and 2,000 PQP after spending $5,000 on purchases in the first three months from account opening. Plus, earn 10,000 bonus miles after adding an authorized user in the first three months from account opening.

Although cobranded credit cards can help you earn United miles, you may earn more rewards when you book with one of the best cards for airfare purchases. For example, American Express Platinum Card® earns 5 points per dollar spent on airfare booked directly with the airline or through American Express Travel® (on up to $500,000 of these purchases per calendar year, then 1 point per dollar).

Bottom line

Even if you don't have any upcoming travel plans with United, it's worth registering and considering whether it's time to plan a trip. If you have any flights booked that are fully refundable — with United or other airlines — you should consider whether your Mile Play offer is compelling enough for you to cancel and rebook with United.

OUR COMMITMENT TO TRANSPARENCY

The Points Guy believes that credit cards can transform lives, helping you leverage everyday spending for cash back or travel experiences that might otherwise be out of reach. That's why we publish a variety of editorial content and card comparisons: to help you find a great card to turn your goals into reality.

Our site may earn compensation when a customer clicks on a link, when an application is approved, or when an account is opened with our partners, and this may impact how or where these products appear. While we don't cover all available credit cards, our editorial team creates and maintains all of the analysis of these cards, and our content is not influenced nor subject to review by any credit card company, bank or partner prior to (or after) publication. Please view our advertising policy and product review methodology for more information.
